

Onra — Bring a friend

The flow

- On your booking → Bring a friend → pick a contact.
- The seat is booked instantly. You pay with a guest pass or credit — or, if the studio doesn't allow that, the drop-in price by card in the same flow.
- The friend gets a link: name + waiver. Skipped if they're already in the system. That's all they ever see.
- Phone match links them to an existing profile; otherwise a new Lead is created.

Studio setting (one toggle)

- Settings → Operations → Members can use credits for guests: on / off.
- On → credit is spent Off → the host pays the guest drop-in price by card.

Not part of this feature

- "Send them a link to pay themselves" — that's just sharing the class page; every member can already do that.
- The referral program — a separate thing (a code + a reward, lives in Marketing). They only touch in the background: a guest who attends becomes a Lead with a signed waiver, and if they later buy, the studio sees who brought them.

Edge cases

- Host cancels their booking → prompt: "Also cancel [friend]'s seat?" Normal cancellation rules; the credit returns.
- Guest no-shows or cancels late → the host's credit is burned, standard no-show policy.
- Contact matches two profiles → phone first, email second; never auto-create a duplicate — flag for front desk.